CSPS PRESIDENT, THOMAS F. MITTS, MD INVITES YOU TO JOIN US FOR THE 63RD CSPS ANNUAL MEETING

My Fellow Colleagues:

What a year! It has been a privilege to be President of the CSPS! I am so thankful for our bright and energetic colleagues who are dedicated to the best art and science of plastic surgery. These men and women are making our profession better, safer and more accessible. The Legislative Committee headed by Debra Johnson, MD and Steven Teitelbaum, MD under the counsel of Tim Madden and Doug Free have been very active. It is a constant reminder of our impact in medicine that so many wish to emulate us! Your organization is maintaining the standards! The CSPS PAC under Jack Bruner, MD is extremely busy making our case of public protection and truth in advertising to our elected representatives. We are fortunate to have the experience and investment of time given by Dr. Bruner.

Our academic leaders including our plastic surgery residency Chiefs and Program Directors, James Chang, MD, Gordon Lee, MD, Andrew Da Lio, MD, George Rudkin, MD, Greg Evans, MD, Thomas Stevenson, MD, Michael Wong, MD, Anne Wallace, MD, Amanda Gosman, MD, Mark Urata, MD, Warren Garner, MD, Subhas Gupta, MD, Michael Hill, MD, and Bill Hoffman, MD are working so hard. I want to also recognize the many accomplishments of Timothy Miller, MD, past Chief & Program Director of UCLA's Plastic Surgery Residency Program. I wish to thank them for their dedication, brilliance, persistence in producing the future plastic surgeons and our leaders of tomorrow.

I want to also recognize Gil Gradinger, MD for his long-standing commitment to education. I want to thank Henry Kawamoto, MD for his years of world-class work and training in the field of craniofacial surgery. And, I also want to commend Garry Brody, MD for the many contributions to our specialty and also for his generous family donation to the CSPSERF.

We are particularly proud of Greg Evans, MD in his current position of ASPS President. Former National Presidents including Jim Wells, MD, Michael McGuire, MD, Robert Singer, MD, Ron Iverson, MD, Gil Gradinger, MD, Brian Kinney, MD, Hale Tolleth, MD, Mark Gorney, MD, Garry Brody, MD, Malcolm Lesavoy, MD, Mary McGrath, MD, Thomas Stevenson, MD all continue their work on our behalf and are leaders on the national stage.

Scott Hansen, MD and Susan Kaweski, MD have put together a fine Scientific Program that will keep us up to date on the latest and greatest of techniques and innovations.

The meeting is in beautiful San Francisco. The hotel is the venerable St. Francis hotel with all it's fabled glory and history. The new light show on the Bay Bridge is as spectacular as the Eiffel Tower light show. Come and see it!

A special thank you is warranted to Christine Pahl for her managerial skills and helping me throughout this past year. Come be with your outstanding colleagues, learn, exchange information and enjoy!

ANNUAL MEETING PROGRAM AND FACULTY

GENERAL EDUCATION INFORMATION

The California Society of Plastic Surgeons (CSPS) seeks to see beyond the traditional functions of continuing medical education, and challenges itself to become a catalyst for, an advocate for, and a provider of education that promotes improved competence, performance, and patient outcomes in plastic surgery.

Purpose: Our CME program seeks to provide high-quality, evidence-based educational opportunities designed to advance plastic surgeon competence, enhance practice performance, and promote patient safety to ultimately improve patient outcomes in the populations served by the plastic surgeons we educate. In addition, the CSPS acknowledges the importance of culture and communication for delivering effective healthcare and is committed to educating physicians to deliver culturally and linguistically appropriate care.

Content: Our educational offerings include, but are not limited to, updates in clinical plastic surgery (aesthetic and reconstructive), reviews of current or best practice recommendations for plastic surgery care, evaluation of new and emerging technologies and techniques in plastic surgery, as well as patient safety.

Target Audience: We seek to serve not only the educational needs of plastic surgery healthcare professionals (board-certified plastic surgeons, plastic surgery residents and fellows, nurses and office staff) involved in the provision of plastic surgery services within the state of California, but the needs of local, regional, and national healthcare professionals and colleagues as well.

Types of Activities: As a CME provider for the largest plastic surgery state society in the country, the CSPS' educational activities include, but are not limited to, lectures, panel sessions, paper presentations, clinical round table discussions, and instructional courses. The educational design, instructional method and learning format for each event is chosen to best serve the educational needs and learning objectives of the planned educational activity.

Expected Results: We expect participants to report improved competence as expressed by greater confidence and knowledge in their approach to clinical problems or by an intent to change their behavior and apply newly acquired strategies in their practice. We expect participants will have greater confidence that they are delivering care which promotes patient safety. In addition, if evaluated within the clinical practice setting, we expect improved performance parameters or a favorable impact on patient outcomes.

The General Sessions will consist of panel presentations on timely subjects which affect the plastic surgery specialty. Papers will also be presented during the general sessions. These papers are on various clinical topics and include summaries of research, observations based on experience, clever tricks to handle difficult problems, new instrumentation, development of new technologies, trends, statistics, safety issues and other comments about clinical practice that may be of value. The CSPS will also address cultural and linguistic competency issues and is dedicated to providing the participants with the necessary data, assessment tools and the development of resources plastic surgeons may use in their practices to address these issues.

The overall objective of the general sessions is to present topics related to the core body of knowledge for plastic surgery, as well as increasing quality in the health care delivery system. The content will also cover innovative, recent and new research related topics of importance to the practice of plastic surgery.

The instructional course will address the topic of breast augmentation, an ACLS Training Course, and a CPR course.

All recommendations presented and scientific research presented must be based on evidence accepted within the profession of plastic surgery and must conform to the generally accepted standards of experimental design, data collection and analysis.

There will be question-and-answer sessions provided for each activity and we encourage you to use this time to address a difficult case you may have, query the speakers on their techniques, etc.

The CSPS takes responsibility for the content, quality and scientific integrity of its CME activities. As such, the CSPS follows the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education's Standards for Commercial Support. By following these standards the CSPS ensures the independence of its CME activities. LEGISLATIVELY SPEAKING, WHERE ARE WE?

TIM MADDEN, CSPA LEGISLATIVE ADVOCATE

The legislative season is in full swing as more than 2,300 bills have been introduced and the policy committees are just beginning to hear bills. Although this may seem like a large number of bills it is actually more than 20% less than in years past! A large number of bills are still in "spot" form which means the real content of the bills will be amended into the bill sometime over the next month.

Looking at the bills impacting CSPA, I did not see too many surprises. There are a number of "scope" bills but most of them are still in spot form. I did not find any bills looking to establish a sales tax on elective cosmetic procedures. There were a large number of bills dealing with the implementation of the Affordable Care Act (ACA).

There are also a few bills on the issue of opioid prescribing. This issue has received a strong amount of attention as the LA Times has had multiple articles focusing on this topic which have been critical of physicians and the Medical Board. The Senate pro Tem has become involved in the issue and the Attorney General has been widely quoted in the LA Times articles.

Senator Ed Hernandez has declared 2013 to be the "year of scope". Senator Hernandez, Chair of the Senate Health Committee, has been very clear on his desire to look at expanding the scope of practice for mid-level practitioners. Senator Hernandez has been vocal on his concern with the workforce shortage of physicians especially as the Affordable Care Act (ACA) is fully implemented. His view has been there are more than two million people who are expected to be insured as a result of the ACA and there are not enough primary care physicians to see the newly insured.

Recently, Senator Hernandez held a press conference announcing his intention to look at the scope of practice for certain mid-level practitioners including NPs, PAs, pharmacists, and optometrists as a way to address workforce shortages. To his credit (politically speaking), he has also introduced legislation to address the need to increase residency slots for primary care as well as promoting increases in the Steve Thompson medical school loan repayment program which provides loan repayment to physicians who agree to practice in rural communities.

After the press conference, Senator Hernandez held a hearing with the Senate Health and Senate B&P Committees. The hearing provided an opportunity for Senator Hernandez and the mid-level practitioners to make their case for the need to expand their scope of practice. A physician from CMA and a family practice physician did a nice job of emphasizing a team based approach to patient care but being careful to "Do No Harm" as this discussion of expansion of scope occurs. The details of Senator Hernandez's "scope" bills have not been released but I am expecting them to come out in the next week.

CSPA is sponsoring a bill this year. It is AB 916 (Eggman).

This bill addresses the ongoing issue of physicians misleading patients with their training and education. Patients are confused when physicians list boards which are not ABMS boards with the intent of portraying those "bogus boards" as being equivalent to an ABMS board. AB 916 would limit the use of the terms "board", "certified", and "certification" to only those boards which are ABMS boards or boards that have been reviewed by the Medical Board and found to be equivalent to ABMS boards.

Assemblymember Susan Eggman is our author. Ms. Eggman is a moderate Democrat from the Stockton area. She has a PhD in social work and when I was discussing our issue with her she immediately understood as apparently there is an ongoing problem with social workers putting themselves out to have certain qualifications when in fact they do not. I expect our bill to be heard in the Assembly B&P Committee sometime in April.

This promises to be another busy year for CSPA advocacy. I will continue to update everyone on advocacy issues as they develop.
